Expression Analysis Ranks No. 9 on List of Top 100 Businesses

Durham, N.C. (April 20, 2009) – Expression Analysis, a leading provider of genomic services for clinical trials and research, announced it has been recognized as one of the “Top 100 Small Businesses in North Carolina” by Business Leader Media.

Expression Analysis’ growth, awards, and community involvement helped place them as the 9th top small business in North Carolina. The award recognizes the company’s growth, quality of leadership, entrepreneurship and community service involvement. Business Leader selected the Top 100 North Carolina Small Businesses from over 284 nominations that were received.

“Expression Analysis is an industry leader in the field of genomics and now being recognized as one of the top small businesses in North Carolina demonstrates our commitment to excellence not only to the clients we serve, but the state we live in and the communities we serve. We are honored to be included in this list of successful business”, stated Steve McPhail CEO.
